PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY | COMMERCIAL STRATEGY LEADER

Harvard Applied Math graduate and strategic operator with 7+ years in strategy, operations, and financial modeling at high-growth consumer and fintech companies. Sizes opportunities, builds business cases for senior leaders, and aligns cross-functional teams to execute, from Harry's IPO-readiness revenue model to the ACH+ launch at Amex. Passionate about dining; built his own AI restaurant app called TasteBuddy.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

American Express Credit Card Company / Fintech — New York, NY

Senior Strategy Manager, Global Pricing Strategy — Mar 2024 – Aug 2024 (MEDICAL LEAVE - Present)

- Built pricing and revenue forecast models across 5 card tiers and multiple countries, with scenario and sensitivity views that identified levers for a 5% revenue increase; presented findings to the C-suite to guide investment decisions
- Led the competitive intelligence and market analysis workstream for the ACH+ product launch; turned the research into an executive decision memo and go-to-market plan that aligned senior stakeholders across teams

Harry's, Inc (Mammoth Brands) Consumer Packaged Goods Company — New York, NY

Strategy Manager / Brand Manager, US Personal Care — Jul 2022 – Feb 2024

Strategy Senior Associate, Harry's — Aug 2020 – Jun 2022

- Owned revenue strategy and planning for the $250M US Personal Care portfolio; built the revenue models and quarterly Board materials leadership used to set annual targets and allocate spend
- Designed the company's standard monthly and quarterly business review templates, setting the operating rhythm and reporting standards used across the organization
- Supported key retailer relationships: helped sell Harry's category strategy to major mass retailers, built the category presentation for a new Walmart buyer's onboarding, and built a club channel forecast that BJ's adopted

Kantar, Consulting Division Brand Management Consulting Firm — New York, NY

Consultant (promoted from Analyst) — June 2018 – August 2020

- Developed market intelligence frameworks and strategic recommendations for Fortune 500 clients in CPG, retail, and fintech

STRATEGIC PROJECTS

Personal Project: TasteBuddy – AI Restaurant Discovery App site link

- Designed, built, and launched a live restaurant app covering 1,000+ restaurants, using two AI models to pull live web reviews, check them against user rankings, and keep costs low by sending each question to the cheapest model that can answer it
- Tracks 1,000+ restaurants across 150+ cuisines with a personal ranking system (6 tiers), giving a diner's view of how people find and choose where to eat

Harry's: Long-Term Plan – Revenue Model for IPO Readiness

- Built the 3-year gross revenue model used in IPO preparation, combining inputs from 15+ stakeholders across brands and countries into one framework used by Finance, Strategy, and the C-suite
- Created the planning templates and fact packs, then designed and ran a 3-day executive workshop to finalize the revenue plan

Harry's: SKU Rationalization – Portfolio Optimization

- Built the company's first portfolio optimization framework from scratch, combining Finance, Supply Chain, and outside data across 1,000+ SKUs; identified the bottom 33% of performers, added +50bps to gross margin, and recovered $10M in inventory
- Led the steering committee with senior leaders and managed the cross-team work to carry out each decision
